

Folliculitis

Case Study: Pro-Beach Volleyball Player

Folliculitis has become increasingly common in sports. Efforts to decrease colonization of bacteria and fungi are essential for preventing the infection and spread of infection especially, but not only, when there is skin to skin contact.

Our subject for this Folliculitis Case Study:
25 year old female
Pro-Beach Volleyball Player

Subject washed with CLn SportWash daily. Product was massaged into skin for 2 minutes prior to rinsing completely.

Day 1

Day 15

Day 1

Day 15

Day 1

Day 15

For product information, physician education or for clinical information on the published Atopic Dermatitis Study CLN003.7, visit pro.CLnWash.com

